

Glazing Gives Novel Touch

GLAZING of broiled and roasted meats gives an unusual and attractive appearance to the finished product. The use of glaze is a rich flavor of flavor developed by the glaze, calls for explanation of the technique. The glaze is made by combining the meat with a mixture of ketchup and one-fourth teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Dredge the meat in the mixture and broil or roast. Ruffin Tells How To Kill Insects In Dried Fruits AUBURN, Ala.—Fruits of all kinds have been produced in abundance this year. Every effort should be made to save all of these fruit materials in some way. A very easy and popular method of keeping apples and peaches, at least, is to dry them. Quite often dried fruit is used in the home for the larvae of the Indian meal moth. We are not so much concerned with the insect as we are about the quality of control. It is so that any pest found in dried fruit can be controlled by heat or by fumigating with carbon disulphide.

Selection of a supply of good seed corn for 1932 is an important factor in the success of the Alabama farmer. Careful selection on the farm will give a corn that is superior to varieties grown in some other sections under different soil and climatic conditions. Selection should be done both before and after harvest. Before harvesting go through the field and select seed ears, keeping in mind the following points:

- (1) Select for vigorous stalks as shown by superiority over surrounding stalks. Do not select stalks that are good because of extra space or other favorable conditions. Select stalks of medium height that do not break.
- (2) Select for two or more ears per stalk and preferable with ears turning down. Use both ears from a stalk.
- (3) Select ears with shucks exerting well over tips.
- (4) Select ears from stalks which are free from disease. It is necessary to select many more ears than will be needed for planting for the purpose of the seed material. In this last selection the following points should be kept in mind:
- (1) Select ears having smooth, hard, dense, heavy, and relatively free from blemishes.
- (2) Select long, heavy ears, not too many rows of kernels.
- (3) The shuck and cob should be clean and show no discoloration.
- (4) Preferably the ear should be well filled with grain. This, however, is of minor importance.
- (5) Store seed corn so that it will be protected from mice and insects.

'Safe Program' Evolved For Dothan Section

DOTHAN, Ala., Oct. 9.—Confidentially, the Dothan section of the Elba Baptist Church, S. S. rooms were filled to overflowing, there being 150 persons for the S. S. lesson. The face of the efficient superintendent, Mr. W. T. Whitman, radiated a smile and he expressed in a few well chosen words his joy at the increase in S. S. attendance.

During the evangelistic campaign that came to a close on Sunday evening there has been a great spiritual awakening among the people of Elba. Many new converts have come into the church and a renewed interest and a re-conversion has been manifested in the lives of the older church members.

After the S. S. period on Sunday morning the doors of the church were opened. Many who had not attended church for some time, were present, and the church was well filled. The program was a success and the church was well filled.

A PLAN THAT WORKS
When President Hoover and various leading New York City bankers recently held a White House conference at which they discuss the details of a Chicago plan for saving mortgage real estate they anticipated by only a few days
a meeting in the Illinois metropolis of almost 600 investors from nine states, who unanimously endorsed the same plan. Financial Weekly points out, the plan provides for safeguarding the interests of investors in twenty-nine large apartment and hotel buildings. The plan calls for the mortgage bonds on these structures are in every state of the union. The buildings faced severely until the George M.

Forman Realty Trust was organized to handle them. Now they are being managed for the best interests of these investors, many being persons of small means.

Latest news is that this plan, as considered in Washington, is about to be adopted in other cities, that it will help the real estate mortgage situation, which is extremely serious. The officers of the Trust, beginning its second year, announce that they will continue with their original policy and this is striking proof of the success of their work on behalf of distressed small investors.

A LABORER'S DAUGHTER
Three years ago a laborer's daughter came to Elba to be married; today with a five-year contract to sing with the Chicago Civic Opera Company. That's quite a jump, but Serafino di Leo has made it, and she is now only 19.

When she was 16 she had some gotten the ambition to sing and she was so impressed with heard one, so she begged Mrs.
Martini, wife of the Metropolitan tenor, to give her a ticket. She not only got her ticket, but an opportunity to sing for Mrs. Martini, who was so impressed with her voice that it was arranged to send her to Italy for three years' study.

Last February she made her debut at famed La Scala opera house in Milan with great success. Representatives of the Chicago Civic Opera heard her and the contract resulted. Miss di Leo returned from Europe this month and will begin her American debut in November.

after it.

Twelve thousand volunteer work-and early responses indicated that the efforts being made would be completely successful.

A PLAN THAT WORKS
When President Hoover and various leading New York City bankers recently held a White House
conference at which they discuss
the details of a Chicago plan
for saving mortgage real estate
they anticipated by only a few days
a meeting in the Illinois metropolis of almost 600 investors from nine states, who unanimously endorsed
the same plan. Financial Weekly points out, the plan provides for safeguarding the interests of investors in twenty-nine large apartment and hotel buildings. The plan calls for the mortgage bonds on

these structures are in every state
of the union. The buildings faced
severely until the George M.
Forman Realty Trust was organized to handle them. Now they are being managed for the best interests of these investors, many being
persons of small means.

Latest news is that this plan, as
considered in Washington, is about to be adopted in other cities, that it will help the real estate mortgage situation, which is extremely serious. The officers of the Trust, beginning its second year, announce that they will continue with
their original policy and this is
striking proof of the success of their work on behalf of distressed
small investors.

A LABORER'S DAUGHTER
Three years ago a laborer's
daughter came to Elba to be married; today with a five-year contract to sing with the Chicago Civic Opera Company. That's quite a jump, but Serafino di Leo has made it, and she is now only 19.

When she was 16 she had some
gotten the ambition to sing
and she was so impressed with
heard one, so she begged Mrs.
Martini, wife of the Metropolitan tenor, to give her a ticket. She not only got her ticket, but an opportunity to sing for Mrs. Martini, who was so impressed with
her voice that it was arranged to send her to Italy for three years' study.

Last February she made her debut at famed La Scala opera house in Milan with great success. Representatives of the Chicago Civic Opera heard her and the contract
resulted. Miss di Leo returned from Europe this month and will begin her American debut in November.

All because a penniless girl what a golden voice knew what she wanted and did not hesitate to go after it.

More than 3,000 miles of roads will be constructed in the Minnesota section of the highway com-

Because Benjamin James of Chi-also set fire to her bed while she was sleeping she was granted a divorce.

Mrs. Byrd Mitchell, Jr., spent several days last week in Elba, Ala., and see how cheap we are selling our goods. Our prices are always lower than at any other store in Elba.

The robbery occurred near Ball Mill in Coffee County on July 23. The victim was Shelby Layton, who was riding in an automobile with the three men. Layton was knocked unconscious, dragged to the roadside and robbed of $175. All the men were residents of Elba in Dale County.

During the term of Criminal Court which opened here Monday morning 10 cases went to the jury with 12 convictions and one acquittal. Those were cases of J. D. Olin, who received a sentence of 10 years for forgery; R. C. Crump, 10 years for forgery; Avery Edge and Gushing Marsh, each convicted and fined on charges of assault and battery; Lewis Brown, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon; and the case of the Cleveland Council, five years for burglary; Sylvester L. Lolley, 10 years for carrying a dangerous weapon. The last named three are negroes.

METHODIST W. M. S. MET AT THE CHURCH MONDAY

The regular meeting of the Western Methodist Society of the Methodist Church was held at the church Monday afternoon. Mrs. Garrett, president, presided.

Mrs. Casper Foley gave the second offering for the building fund. Mrs. Marshall Kingsford gave the Mission offering. The offering for the "Peace" by Florence Bieck.

The meeting was dismissed with the benediction.

WITHIN the past six years residential rates for electricity in Alabama have decreased from an average of 7.75 cents to 5.05 cents per kilowatt hour. This is a reduction of 35%.

This decrease in cost of electric service has taken place in the face of the fact that, according to the U. S. Department of Labor, the cost of food in 1930 compared with 1913 was 37 per cent higher; clothing 53 per cent higher; rent 47 per cent higher; house furnishings 88 per cent higher and various miscellaneous items of family use 108 per cent higher. Contrasted with this tremendous INCREASE is the outstanding fact that electric service rates throughout the nation have DECREASED 18.5% during the same period.

The average Alabama family pays a far lower rate for electricity than the average American family. The average American family pays only 9 cents per day or an average of 6 cents per kilowatt hour. In Alabama, the average rate is approximately 17% less than the national average.

With such low rates, you can afford to electrify your home and enjoy all the comfort and convenience which electricity can bring to you.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY

$22.19

The Birmingham News and Age-Herald are vitally interested in everything pertinent to the upbuilding of Alabama.

The News-Age-Herald realizes that people living out on a rural route cannot enjoy the conveniences and advantages that people living in towns do, in having a daily paper delivered on their porch a short time after it is printed; that the person living on a rural route must wait until the R. F. D. carrier makes his delivery. Until the past few years a good many R. F. D. box holders were satisfied to confine their reading to weekly papers, and while these papers are good, and should be in every home in their territory, no one can keep properly abreast with the times, and know what is going on throughout the world solely through these papers. The News and Age-Herald realized that in some cases at least, rural schools are not as far advanced as the schools in cities and larger towns, and that the children attending rural schools would benefit greatly in an educational way by having a daily newspaper in the home. These papers also realized that the income of the average person living on a rural route is not as fixed as that of the town subscriber.

Taking all of these things into consideration, particularly the educational angle, The News and Age-Herald, anxious to put a daily newspaper within the reach of every rural or star route box holder, have again this year made a SPECIAL BARGAIN PRICE, making it possible for every rural patron to read daily one of the South's Greatest Newspapers.

For this reason, this BARGAIN OFFER, either the daily Birmingham News or Age-Herald, one year for $21.90, or The News or Age-Herald daily and Sunday one year for $21.90, is being offered to holders of R. F. D. and Star route boxes, and to people living in towns where newspaper delivery service is not maintained. SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM PERSONS LIVING IN TOWNS WHERE THE NEWS OR AGE-HERALD IS DELIVERED BY CARRIER POSITIVELY WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED AT THIS BARGAIN PRICE.

Take advantage of The Birmingham News and Age-Herald October Bargain offer.

DAILY ONLY $21.90. DAILY AND SUNDAY $21.90

County Agent Makes Statement Concerning Cream

PROSPERITY FOLLOWS THE DAILY COW.

This is an old adage and it holds true this time when everything else has failed to come up to expectations.

Those that shipped cream last year moved 100 percent for their cream. This begins to look good for all "boomers" to come back into the market.

Elba Tigers Lost to Greenville By Score of 27 to 10

In a game of football over at Greenville last Friday afternoon, Elba's Tigers were roughly treated and decisively defeated by a score of 27 to 10. A considerable number of fans from Elba were on hand to witness the carnage.

Before the start of the game, the three full teams representing Elba were lined up on the field for signal practice, the smallest of which was fully as large as Elba's. Finally, it was plain to be seen that the Tigers were in for a strenuous afternoon. The starting team for Greenville towered above the Elba boys and outplayed them by a margin of fifteen points per man.

The Tigers started in the first quarter like champions and really outplayed their larger opponents for the greater part of the period, but after working the ball well down into every territory by means of some good punting, they lost the oval and then, that demon kicker, "Big Foot" Brown, booted the ball into Elba's territory, and from there it is a sure thing that he nor any of his mightiest could stop the ball from going into Elba's territory. He kicked over Elba's goal line and on other occasions he punted out of bounds close to the line a "Get Out of Elba" he punted into Elba's territory, and from there it is a sure thing that he nor any of his mightiest could stop the ball from going into Elba's territory.
